Welsh Estate Gates

An original pair of gates at a Welsh estate needed replacing after an incident with a delivery vehicle.

Peter inspected the originals and the process to make an exact copy of these gates began.

An ornate overthrow and specially modelled crest make these gates extremely unique.

The following pages show the project from beginning to the current stage of manufacture.

All verticals punched through horizontals and hot forged scroll work.

Samples of the gilded leaves for client approval.

Cast items and hand forged scroll work.

The client supplied an original cast of the crest which was used as the model for the newly cast item.
