Buckinghamshire Gates

Entrance Gates

The client particularly liked ornate scrollwork and helped with the design process with images of original iron-work she liked. We worked together to create a unique pair of gates that would combine security with elegance.

We assisted by providing design concepts of the gates in position prior to manufacture. These were reviewed by the client until we found the precise design and dimensions that complemented the house correctly. The design was drawn accurately in DWG.

The following pages illustrate the process from design, manufacture, and installation. Designed by Louise Weldon of Peter Weldon Iron Designs; Manufacture was by our partner firm Aquairon of Bulgaria. Installation was by Charlie Griffiths and Peter Weldon.

'Reed'gates with dense patternwork

This pair of gates could have the top section inverted to create an arch.

Our scroll and foliage sample was liked by the client and the design below started the design process.
This gate design was altered many times until we reached the final item.

The final gate design plus steel posts that will support the gate and sit within the brick pillars. Foundations and automation boxes are also shown.
